PROGRAM DECIDED UPON IN BUSINESS RECOVERY LEVIES

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE CLEARS WAY FOR AGREEMENT ON TAX PLANS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau reported today congressional leaders had agreed on a tax program with the President that would "definitely contribute to business recovery."

The treasury head said the tax conference held at the White House yesterday cleared up final details of a corporation tax revision program and that further conferences were expected.

He replied with an emphatic "yes" when asked if the tax program was ready to go before Congress.

He added, however, that he did not yet know on what date the house ways and means committee would summon him to present the plan.

The president conferred yesterday with Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the senate finance committee, Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.) and Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.).

Morgenthau said he could report "more progress" has been made in the last couple of days than was made in the last couple of months towards a solution of the tax problem.

He added "goodwill all around" was responsible for the agreement after months of conflicting statements by the president, treasury officials, legislators and others as to what ought or could be done about taxes to help business.

Morgenthau explained that when the house committee calls him to testify he will make a general statement about tax revision, then Undersecretary John W. Hanes will take charge of the treasury's participation in the tax hearings.

Hanes is a former Wall Street broker and former member of the securities commission who has been active for more than a year in promoting friendship between the administration and business men.

SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVED FUNDS RED RIVER DAM

APPROPRIATION FOR STARTING WORK ON PROJECT INCLUDED IN BILL

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(P)—The Denison Red river dam today was a step nearer realization as the senate appropriations sub-committee approved the house-passed war department civil functions bill.

The bill would appropriate $133,000,000 for flood control work over the country. The money would be turned over to army engineers, who proposed to spend $7,000,000 of it during the next fiscal year to start the Denison dam.

The total cost of the flood control project would be $54,000,000. Five dams would be required to complete it.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(P)—Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) said the senate appropriations sub-committee probably would act today on a house-passed bill containing $135,000,000 for flood control projects, of which $5,700,000 was earmarked for starting construction of the proposed $54,000,000 Denison dam.

Advocates of flood control projects urged the committee yesterday to pass the bill, which appropriated $50,000,000 more than

FEAR THAT PRESIDENT MIGHT VETO FARM BILL DIES AFTER POSITION FARMER NOT BETTER

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(P)—The farmer, who contributed greatly to the republican upswing last fall, is not quite so well off on the agriculture department charts now as he was last year.

His position on these charts has much to do with congressional votes for the big benefit payments which the senate added to the agriculture department appropriation bill.

Politicians said the farmers' income bill is lower than the experts contend it should be, and since the prices for what he has to sell still are out of line with those for what he buys, the federal government should spend more to try to even things up.

The appropriation bill as finally enacted probably will include upwards of $500,000,000 more for the farmer than was set down in the annual budget. In view of the current presidential reminder that congress had not provided the taxes with which to raise extra money spent for the farmer, last

Five Associated Press Staffmen Supplied News

PORTSMOUTH, R. I., May 25.—(P)—Five Associated Press staffmen, working around the clock by telephone and radio, supplied the details for the thousands of words transmitted to Associated Press member papers on the submarine Squalus disaster.

One man, E. Harry Crockett of Boston and Lowell, Mass., scored a scoop on the rest of newspaperdom when he received first hand from a responsible official source, yesterday morning, information 28 men probably were dead.

Despite seasickness, Crockett raced in a private boat to shore and telephoned his beat to his Boston office on a telephone which the Associated Press set up in the Portsmouth navy yard—the source of most of the later information.

Another, Gregory Hewlett of New York, was aboard the U.S.S. Brooklyn, anchored off the scene of the rescue. He flashed stories day and night to the Boston bureau of the Associated Press.

Three other men obtained interviews, side-lights, color stories and the most minute details in helping to round out coverage of one of navy's worst submarine disasters.

HOUSE APPROVED TAX REMISSION BILL GOES BACK SENATE

SENATE ADJOURNED DURING FILIBUSTER AGAINST FAIR TRADE ACT

AUSTIN, May 25.—(P)—The senate state affairs committee today set a public hearing on the house approved omnibus tax bill for next Tuesday at 2 p. m.

AUSTIN, May 25.—(P)—The house of representatives approved today a bill previously passed by the senate remitting state and valorem taxes to counties for five years.

The vote on final passage was 85 to 53.

The house amended the senate bill, however, to remit only one-half such taxes, and the measure must go back to the upper legislative chamber for further action.

Question as to whether the 85 favorable votes were sufficient for final passage, or under the constitution two-thirds of the entire membership was necessary, was raised and overruled by Speaker Emmett Morse of Houston.

Morse said that was a point for the courts to interpret.

Sponsor of the bill in the house, Rep. Howard Hartzog of Fort Larcade, estimated approximately $3,750,000 taxes would be turned back to the counties, under the amended house measure.

Remission of all the state and valorem taxes, as advocated by the senate, would amount to about $7,500,000, he said.

Meanwhile the senate, gripped in a filibuster against the "fair trade" act passed by the house weeks ago, suddenly adjourned until Monday.

Maternity Industry

In addition to approving a general tax remission, the house finally passed a bill licensing and regulating the mattress and bedding industry, but because of amendments this bill also must return to the senate.

On other business at the morning session included:

A concurrent resolution recommending the safety department and the railroad commission not enforce the truck load limit law with reference to farm products was laid aside temporarily after a point of order was made it was attempting to be enforced by resolution that the house had refused to do by a bill.

A motion to force the highways and motor traffic committee of the house to report by Monday a bill extending farm products from the load limit law was tabled.

THREE DEFENDANTS IN INSURANCE MURDER CASES PLEAD GUILTY

SEVEN OTHERS PLEAD GUILTY IN WHOLESALE MURDER CHARGES

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—(P)—In the largest mass arraignment in Philadelphia court history, three men pleaded guilty and seven men and women pleaded innocent today to charges that they murdered five men in a mass plot to collect insurance.

Those pleading guilty will appear before a court of three judges, who will hear evidence and find punishment.

The seven who denied any guilt will be tried, perhaps in groups. The trials were expected to start next week.

Morris Bolber, who detectives charged "executive" of the widespread syndicate, was the first brought before Judge Albert S. S. Miller.

He pleaded "guilty generally" to the murder of Roman Manduk, a baker, Manduk's exhumed body showed traces of four poisons.

Bolber pleaded innocent, however, to an indictment charging him with a part in the drowning of Rafael Caruso, a cripple.

David Brandt, bespectacled little typewriter salesman, indicted also in Manduk's death, almost shouted "not guilty" to the accusations.

Manduk's widow, Agnes, also denied she had a part in her husband's death.

Tearful and Shaking

Tearful and shaking, Mrs. Christina Carone was led before the court to answer murder and manslaughter charges in the Caruso drowning. Caruso, a boarder in her home, "drowned in the Squykill River several years ago."

His landlady shook her head vigorously and pleaded innocent.

The next plea of guilty came from Samuel Sortino. He acknowledged charges he participated in Caruso's drowning.

Cesare Valenti, huge Italian who came to the United States 30 years ago, entered a plea of in-

MAN WHO CLOSED BULKHEAD TO SAVE MATES INSISTS HE ONLY OBEYED ORDERS; WOULD REPEAT

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 25.—(P)—Electrician's Mate Lloyd B. Blanchard of Greensboro, N. C., whose "superhuman" effort in closing a watertight compartment door saved the lives of 33 men aboard the stricken submarine Squalus, told today how he held the door open long enough to save five men in the next compartment.

"I was detailed in charge of the bulkhead door between the control room and the after battery," Blanchard told newspapermen. "At the instant the Squalus settled to the bottom, we were as a sharp angle and down at."

The water was rising rapidly in the after compartment and I realized time was short if I was to close the bulkhead door. Due to the angle of the ship and the fact the door opened from a down angle, I had to exert all my strength to swing it into place.

"I had partially closed the door when several men shouted to me from the rapidly filling after battery,

DIES WILL SEEK ADDITIONAL FUNDS UNAMERICAN PROBE

DECLARES REPORTS ANTI-SEMITIC CAMPAIGN MERE TIDBITS TESTIMONY

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(P)—The house committee on Un-American activities soon will ask for a $50,000 increase in its $100,000 appropriation, Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) said today, so "we can do it more effectively."

Referring to testimony of an anti-semitic campaign purported to be based on fears of a revolution, Dies said:

"That was just a tidbit of the stuff we've got and we've got to have more money to carry on the work. Last year, with only $25,000 to work with, we were criticized for not bringing a lot of these people in."

"I asked for $150,000 this year, but some members of the house who thought they knew more than I did, arranged it so that we got only $100,000."

SAFE STOLEN RICE THURSDAY MORNING FOUND NEAR HI-WAY

BURGLARS THREATEN NIGHT WATCHMAN AFTER BREAKING INTO STORE

County officers are faced with the solving of a burglary of the Clarence Mahan grocery store at Rice about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The safe from the store, still intact, was discovered in a ditch one mile south of Rice later in the morning by Sheriff Cap Curington and Deputy George T. Brown and Jeff Spence.

Carried Safe Away

Officers reported that three or more men apparently had conducted the burglary. Entering the building through the front door, the knob of the safe had been knocked but the safe could not be opened. The burglars then, apparently, loaded the safe on to the side of a car or truck, tying it to the vehicle, and then sped away toward Corsicana. From marks on the safe and the pavement, the heavy safe fell from the vehicle and was pulled some distance on the concrete. Officers believe the safe then was rolled from the pavement into the ditch.

No fingerprints were left about the safe or store, officers said, and gloves apparently were used. Only papers and a $5 gold piece were kept in the safe. The contents of the cash register were not molested, officers reported Thursday morning.

Sheriff Curington reported that a punch, tire tool and an old hammer double-barreled shotgun, with a taped stock, were left behind by the burglars.

Threatened Nightwatchman

Andrew Merrill, nightwatchman at Rice, said he came up on the burglar's as they were preparing to leave the scene of the crime and was threatened by one of them with a shotgun. He is quoted as saying he was almost run-

THAT OLD 'NAVY FIGHT' KEPT TRAPPED MEN BUOYED UP WHILE THEY QUIETLY AWAITED RESCUE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 25.—(P)—The old "navy fight" kept that nerves cracking as trapped men in the submarine Squalus quietly "took it easy" while awaiting a rescue they never doubted would come.

Not one of the men became excited," said Electrician's Mate First Class Judson T. Bland, of Norfolk, Va., one of the 33 men who lived to tell of long hours in a stricken craft which was at once a tomb for the dead, a trap for the living.

Showing the least signs of exhaustion among the men who rode to safety in the rescue bell "elevator" Bland sat in the navy yard administration room a few minutes after his rescue and chatted with newsmen as a sort of "spokesman" for his mates.

As though he were giving a report to a superior officer, Bland calmly told how "we knew something had gone awry" when water started coming into ventila-

ONLY BAREST HOPE HELD OUT THAT ANY MORE MEN ALIVE

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE TO TAKE OUT BODIES AND RAISE VESSEL

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 25.—(P)—Although admitting only the barest possibility existed there still was life on the sunken submarine Squalus, Rear Admiral C. W. Cole announced today resumption of rescue work after asserting: "We never say die until all hope is lost."

In pointing out there was little hope for the 28 men still trapped on the ill-fated submarine, Cole said the submarine temperature dropped 27 degrees since the craft went down Tuesday and that it tilted sharply when water flooded the after part.

Above the sunken craft a stretch of water with a radius of two-thirds of a mile has been marked off by buoys and no vessels will be permitted near the rescue ship Falcon unless they have official business.

Lieutenant Oliver F. Naquin, commander of the Squalus and the last of the survivors to leave her, came ashore today with the other seven crew members who were trapped for four hours last night after the rescue bell became fouled on its final upward trip from the sunken vessel.

Charles Smith Kuney, yeoman of Tulare, Calif., was borne on a stretcher from the coast guard patrol boat Harriet Lane, up the gang plank, and thence between solid ranks of marines, to a waiting ambulance.

In Good Condition

The other crew members appeared in good condition, however, walking briskly to the ambulances that awaited them.

All were removed to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital to be placed under medical care, with shipmates who had preceded them, as a precaution against pneumonia.

Admiral C. W. Cole, in charge of the rescue and salvage work, boarded the cruiser Brooklyn this morning for a red. He had directed the rescue continuously since Tuesday morning.

While there was rejoicing throughout the country over the rescue of 33 men, a grim, silent mood reigned on the ship as preparations to remove the bodies got underway.

But for the sad job and railing the disabled vessel, the navy had completed, with the first use of a new non-ion beam, one of the most dramatic underwater rescues in the annals of the sea.

Four times the huge, grotesque-looking apparatus was lowered over the side of the submarine rescue ship Falcon. Three times it came up smoothly and promptly, carrying men from the gloom in

LARGE AND INTERESTED CROWDS ATTEND THE COOKING SCHOOL OF DAILY SUN; VALUABLE RECIPES

By MRS. S. C. BAGBY.

With the first day's attendance at the Daily Sun cooking school estimated in the neighborhood of 450, and today's attendance even larger, Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, noted home economist, who is conducting the school, and Messrs. Fred DuBois and Guy Bunch of the advertising department of the Daily Sun, are anticipating the very best cooking school since the inauguration of these helpful schools for the housewives.

In presenting Mrs. Burbank on the opening day, Monday, May 22, at the high school cafeteria, Mr. DuBois stated that as a compliment to Mrs. Burbank, and in recognition of her ability as an instructor and lecturer, the Daily Sun had invited her back the second time.

"The Homemaker as an Executive" was the subject of her discourse at this time, and she stressed the fact that now the homemaker is at the head of the biggest institution in the world today—the home.

During her three-day series of instructions, Mrs. Burbank is to instruct listeners how to keep their homes in a business-like manner since they are to be executives.

Modern conveniences that have made housekeeping a pleasure instead of drudgery, as in days of old, was her theme, and she pointed out the up to date General Electric refrigerator, electric range, the portable electric oven, and other electric appliances furnished by the Western Auto Associate Stores and the Texas Power & Light Company.

Other firms making the cooking school possible were mentioned and their products praised by Mrs. Burbank—especially Boyd's Grocery and Market on West Fifth avenue near the high school, that is furnishing the groceries and meats, and the Ben A. Keith Company for the lovely fresh vegetables.

The Dr. Pepper Company has a most attractive set up at the school and the courteous attendants dispense ice cold Dr. Pepper free to every one in attendance, which adds materially to the comfort of all.

Mrs. Burbank gave recipes not included in the Daily Sun for the day, and stated that the ones printed daily were for her fall cooking school. She is now revising the meat day in order to suit the spring and summer season.

Her efficient colored helpers, Pat McDonald, who has been with her for 11 years, and Doris Hickman of this city, who has assisted with all the Daily Sun schools, except one, were presented.

At the close of the school the prepared foods were attractively displayed, and valuable prizes were awarded, as is the custom each year. Little Diane DuBois won the ticket for the box for the prize awards.

EFFICIENCY OF KITCHEN WAS SUBJECT OF MRS. BURBANK'S LECTURE BEFORE 500 WOMEN

The efficiency of the kitchen was the subject of Mrs. Burbank's lecture Tuesday afternoon, the second day of the Daily Sun's "Happy Kitchen Cooking School," which was heard by 500 or more interested housewives and future housewives in attendance.

An efficient kitchen is one thoroughly organized, runs like a clock and one equipped to keep the family budget within the limit.

She pictured the efficient kitchen as having attractive, muslin curtains, blooming pot plants, and a touch of color—red, blue or gold—in the decorative scheme.

To hold in keeping the budget within the limit, was planning and buying the food supply by the week. This can easily be done now that nearly every home is equipped with a G. E. refrigerator, she stated. At this point Mrs. Burbank opened the beautiful refrigerator, furnished the school by the Western Auto Associate Stores, and showed how a week's supply of meats, as well as fruits and vegetables could easily be kept fresh and sweet.

"Our choicest guests are our husbands and children," she stated. With this fact in view one should make the table at each meal as attractive as possible.

During the afternoon's instruction, Mrs. Burbank gave recipes for tea biscuits, a recipe handed down from generation to generation in her family—a recipe for an old-fashioned apple custard, one of the most nourishing and attractive of desserts; another for strawberry shortcake, fried chicken and cream gravy; thick slices of broiled ham with raisin sauce, and orange cake with chocolate icing. Several of the above recipes were demonstrated as she gave them.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's program the following attractive foods were displayed on the table: Fried chicken, vegetable plate of cauliflower, topped with cream sauce, topped with beets, broiled ham topped with slices of pineapple and whole bananas, stuffed pear salad, tea biscuits, white cake, thick slices of icing, and strawberry shortcake.

Among the lovely prizes given away as Katherine Bruner drew the tickets, was a large basket of fruits by the Ben E. Keith company; four baskets of groceries from Boyd's Grocery and Market; a crisp, dainty frock from the Mode O' Day shop, and a steam cooker from the Western Auto Associate stores.

OUTDOOR FOLK ARE WARNED THAT POISON IVY IS TROUBLESOME

AUSTIN, May 25.—(Spl.)—The main trouble with Rhus toxicodendron, which is blooming now, is that most of us do not recognize it.

Not knowing this plant, many Texans, particularly those city folks who seldom go to the country, may contract a severe case of skin poisoning if they are not careful on picnics, camping and fishing trips.

Warning that several cases of poisoning have been reported already this year, George W. Cox, state health officer, describes Rhus toxicodendron for the benefit of those not familiar with it.

The plant has three leaves which are wax green, and later become red or yellow. It grows on a low but erect plant, varying from several inches to three or four feet in height. The plant bears smooth, whitish, waxy berries containing a stony seed.

The easiest way you can distinguish the plant is by its leaves. Two of them are on short stalks and the third is on a longer one. They are one to four inches long, have a waxy green top and lighter underside. The leaves also have notched margins.

If you are susceptible to it, slight contact with the plant may result in violent skin irritation caused by a resinous substance in the sap. First manifestations will appear within a few hours to five days. Itching, burning sensations and redness, swelling and development of small blisters on the affected parts are symptoms of Rhus poisoning.

Early use of soap and hot water soon after exposure will prevent blisters, but a brush should not be used for washing. The most effective method of prevention, however, is to avoid the plant entirely.

Ignore Rhus toxicodendron as you would poison ivy, for if you haven't guessed it yet, there are one and the same.

HOUSE UNAMERICAN PROBERS DEVELOPING FOREIGN ACTIVITY

DEVELOPING MOVEMENT TO UNITE NAZI, FASCIST AND AMERICAN MOVEMENTS

WASHINGTON, May 24.—(AP)—The house committee on un-American activities was developing today the detailed story of a fledgling movement to unite anti-communist organizations in the United States with those in Germany and Italy.

The committee got first information about the movement yesterday, after a turbulent beginning, from George E. Deatherage of St. Albans, Vt., national commander of the Knights of the White Camellia.

Deatherage threw the hearing into momentary confusion first by challenging Chairman Dies (D-Tex) to "Come over here and make me sit down."

Two husky Capitol policemen quickly thrust him into the witness chair. Thereafter, the tall, sandy-haired construction superintendent, gave the committee detailed testimony regarding his association with Major General George Van Horn Moseley, retired, whom he described as being sympathetic to a plan to weld the anti-communist organizations in this country into a single force.

Deatherage acknowledged he had seen reports of plans for a purported communist uprising in this country which had been circulated by James E. Campbell of Owensboro, Ky. Deatherage said Moseley had shown him "35 or 40" of the reports when he visited the former army officer in Atlanta, Ga.

REPUBLIC STEEL ASKS $7,500,000 OF CIO AND LEWIS

CORPORATION SAYS DAMAGES RESULTED FROM STRIKE IN 1937

CLEVELAND, May 23.—(AP)—The Republic Steel corporation today filed a suit in federal court here under the Sherman and Clayton acts asking $7,500,000 from the congress of Industrial Organizations, The Steel Workers Organizing Committee and CIO president John L. Lewis. The corporation alleged the damages resulted from the little steel strike in 1937.

Republic Steel charged the defendants "entered into a combination, confederation and conspiracy in restraint of trade and combined x x x to force a closing of the plants of the corporation."

The plan was to "obtain total damages, direct and approximate sustained," amount to "not less than 1-2 million dollars and under the provisions of the Clayton act, the plaintiff is entitled to recover the aforesaid damages three-fold."

Republic, the nation's third largest steel producer, named Lewis, Philip Murray, CIO vice president and other officers of the CIO and its constituent Steel Workers Organizing Committee and Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America. These organizations also were named defendants, as were approximately 700 Ohioans whom republic identified, in a statement to the press, as "individual strikers and union officers."

The Steel Company headed by Tom Girdler, charged the defendants conspired in 1937 to force complete or partial closing of its plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Illinois, New York and elsewhere, and then "knowingly, maliciously, recklessly, wantonly and wilfully committed, among others," the following alleged acts:

Caused plants to be blockaded and surrounded; threw missiles at workers; formed pickets into "armed mobs x x x which mobs provoked commotion and riots x x x and fired upon law enforcement officers;" halted rail movement of goods and materials;

Also intimidated railroad employees; obstructed tracks; caused suspension of mail service to some plants; threatened employees at their homes, causing some to be beaten; damaged employees' homes; accosted workers' wives and children; halted trucks carrying food and medicine to plants;

Also caused workers to be shot at, assaulted and abused; prevented loading and unloading of vessels in interstate commerce; Los: Business and Profit

As a result of these asserted acts, republic contended, it lost business and profits and was forced to spend "large sums" for its protection.

The defendant unions all were described as unincorporated associations active in the strike, which at its height made 100,000 men idle in the Great Lakes area. The strike ended in Ohio, its focal point, when national gardeners were called out to protect men desiring to return to work, and it soon collapsed in the other states involved, without CIO's obtaining the signed bargaining contract it sought.

Today's suit by Republic is one of many arising from the 1937 steel strike, in which 16 were killed. CIO's SWOC demand a signed contract from Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland Steel and these companies refused, but declared they were always willing to bargain with the union.

One Cleveland law firm alone has filed 26 death and injury suits against Republic, approximating two and a half million dollars in damages asked.

Last week CIO filed with the national labor relations board wage claims of about $7,500,000 against Republic, contending board wage was due as back pay from the time NLRB ordered strikers reinstatement, in 1938, as operations permitted.

GROVER HALL TRIAL POSTPONED FOR WEEK IN DISTRICT COURT

Trial of Grover C. Hall, charged by indictment with murder, Wednesday was postponed one week by District Judge Wayne R. Howell. The special venire was ordered back next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The state again was ready while the defense presented a motion for a continuance or postponement due to the illness of Hall at his home in Denton, accompanied by a physician's certificate.

A bill of exceptions was taken by the defense due to a statement by Judge Howell. The bill included that the state had made an independent investigation and exception was made to a statement by the trial court in substance:

"I am going to reset this case for trial next Wednesday morning. The defendant had better have awfully good grounds or I am going to try the case. I will send for him if I have to."

The defense attorneys said the above statement, in substance, was prejudicial by inference to the effect that the trial court was of the opinion the seeking of the postponement was not in good faith and that the defendant was not incapacitated for trial. A motion for the discharge of the special venire was overruled.

The jury for the week and special venire was excluded from the courtroom during the dictation of the bill of exceptions by A. P. Mays.

Hall was indicted in connection with the fatal shooting of Rumus Akers, Sr., at Dawson, last Christmas Eve. A jury on a previous trial was unable to agree on a verdict.

Scores of witnesses were on hand Monday and Wednesday mornings.

The prosecution is being conducted by Charles T. Banister and Seton Holsey, criminal district attorney and assistant, respectively, and Norris W. Lovett, special prosecutor. The defense is being handled by Richard and A. P. Mays and Davis, Jester and Tyson.

LIFE-TERM CONVICT STABBED TO DEATH IN MYSTERIOUS WAY

ATTACK OCCURS AS SOME 400 OTHER CONVICTS STOOD NEARBY

RETRIEVE PRISON FARM, Angleton, May 24.—(AP)—While some 400 fellow convicts stood nearby, Richard A. Palmer, 26, lifer from Liberty county, was fatally stabbed by an unknown assailant in the hallway of the main prison building here early today.

Prison authorities, launching an immediate investigation, were at a loss to explain circumstances of the attack.

Palmer, who staggered unaided to the prison hospital quarters in the same building before he collapsed, died without giving information as to who his assailant was.

Palmer, who was stabbed three times over the heart, in the left shoulder and back, had been "quite a problem at times," and had been punished on several occasions for purposely injuring himself, cutting the tops of his shoes and for laziness and impudence.

Kerens Postoffice Promotion
KERENS, May 25.—(P)—Miss Dorothy Holt has been promoted to the office of clerk in the Kerens postoffice filling the place left vacant on the resignation of Ray Crawford. Nathan Crawford will fill the office formerly held by Miss Holt.

In Houston, Dr. Sidney M. Lister, chairman of the prison board, appointed a committee to work with Captain C. J. S. Ellington, general manager of the prison system, in the investigation. Members are S. Denver Chestnutt of Kenedy, vice chairman of the board, and Walter Dillard, new member from New Braunfels.

Palmer said the stabbing occurred as the convicts were bunched in the prison hallway to leave for farm duty. He said Palmer, a member of the hoe squad, was to leave just after the plow men. There are 458 men in the prison.

Miller said he was standing outside the main doorway counting the men out when he heard a cry. He said he thought perhaps it was a trusty in the hospital.

"As a result," he said, "I didn't go into the building until all of the men had filed out to work. When I got inside, a trusty told me a prisoner had been stabbed and had gone to the hospital by himself. When I got to the hospital, the man was dying and unable to speak."

Miller said he believed Palmer was attacked from the rear. No weapon was found.

Palmer, who had served previous terms on larceny and theft charges in Louisiana and Texas prisons, was given a life sentence for murder from Liberty county on Feb. 28, 1933. He was shifted to various prisons, finally entering Retrieve on Feb. 16 of this year.

Houston police said identification records showed Palmer was convicted at Edinburg on April 21, 1935, of slaying Percy Calkins, Houston salesman, who was murdered by hitchhikers. Palmer was given a 99-year sentence in that case.

he life sentence at Liberty was assessed for participation in the murder of an unidentified Italian ship's officer, who disappeared from Houston.

Prison System Manager A. J. Ellington, who said he would begin his investigation of the stabbing Saturday, could ascribe no motive for the slaying.

Members are S. Denver Chestnutt of Kenedy, vice chairman of the board, and Walter Dillard, new member from New Braunfels.

Palmer said the stabbing occurred as the convicts were bunched in the prison hallway to leave for farm duty. He said Palmer, a member of the hoe squad, was to leave just after the plow men. There are 458 men in the prison.

Miller said he was standing outside the main doorway counting the men out when he heard a cry. He said he thought perhaps it was a trusty in the hospital.

"As a result," he said, "I didn't go into the building until all of the men had filed out to work. When I got inside, a trusty told me a prisoner had been stabbed and had gone to the hospital by himself. When I got to the hospital, the man was dying and unable to speak."

Miller said he believed Palmer was attacked from the rear. No weapon was found.

Palmer, who had served previous terms on larceny and theft charges in Louisiana and Texas prisons, was given a life sentence for murder from Liberty county on Feb. 28, 1933. He was shifted to various prisons, finally entering Retrieve on Feb. 16 of this year.

Houston police said identification records showed Palmer was convicted at Edinburg on April 21, 1935, of slaying Percy Calkins, Houston salesman, who was murdered by hitchhikers. Palmer was given a 99-year sentence in that case.

A BOOST FOR ECONOMICS

According to the first annual report of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, it granted or pledged last year a total of $367,520 to institutions, to be used mainly for popular education in economics taught among the 22,000,000 pupils of the public schools. It reaches only a small fraction of the 6,000,000 boys and girls who go through secondary schools. In the colleges and universities only 10 per cent of the graduates have a thirty-five hour acquaintance with the subject. "There are probably a greater number of adults studying economic questions in more or less formally organized groups," says the report, "than children and youths studying the subject in the schools and colleges combined."

It is to further economic study that the Foundation directs its contributions. It is providing field trips for students and teachers-in-training as a means of learning economic facts at first hand.

Throughout all this work the Foundation has no ax to grind, no particular school of economics to support. It seeks only to promote frank discussion, search for truth, understanding of principles and conditions. Here is a service which should be of great practical value.

A LIVELY LOSER

For a supposedly defeated and disemboweled country, China still seems to be doing pretty well. It is, at the least, a very lively corpse. Canton, the great seaport and commercial center of southern China, supposed to have been taken over completely by the invading Japanese more than a year ago, has been newly invaded lately by Chinese troops, with tanks and machine guns everywhere in the streets.

Meanwhile in that remarkable war appears an army of Chinese Amazons. A division of female troops trained by Mme. Pai Chung-hsi, wife of a famous Chinese general, recently started an offensive campaign against Japanese forces concentrated in Kwangtung Province. The women are co-operating with masculine Chinese troops, as an independent unit.

The main body of defensive troops under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek remains in the west. Work continues on the new military highway built from Rangoon, on the Bay of Bengal, up through Burma to western China, and war materials pour in over that route.

Meanwhile the Japanese government takes a new attitude regarding its status in China. Formerly it maintained that its military campaign was merely a punitive expedition to make the Chinese behave themselves. Now a Japanese spokesman admits that a "state of war" exists in spite of the lack of a war declaration, and claims "belligerent rights."

The western democracies, including the United States, seem unlikely to recognize such rights. And with the Chinese women after them, the invaders may yet be driven out.

It is interesting to learn from Berlin that the Duke of Windsor's peace speech was directed to the American people. We supposed he was pointing somewhere else.

JUST FOLKS

WORDS
Words are like seeds! They fall about
In other lives to germinate;
To root a little while and sprout
And bud in deeds of love and hate.

A hurtful word, a jibe or jeer
Within the wounded breast
May lie
In bitter blooms to reappear
Past numbering as time goes by.

Not now the blossom or the thorn
Is seen or felt, in years away
The beauty or the shame is born
Of many a word that's said to-day.

BUSINESS LOANS

The business outlook for the country is better now, says a midwestern banker, because the curve of small loan business is now definitely upward. He thinks this curve is an accurate indication of the state of all business.

"People don't borrow money unless they are confident they can pay it back," he adds. "They are now using their credit to re-establish their affairs, and that means more purchases and more business all along the line."

There was a time when people borrowed far more money than they are borrowing now, in the belief that they could pay it back. That was in the cheerful 1920's. Billions were lost through such optimism. But we have gone through a hard and perhaps profitable training school since. If people believe they can repay loans now, they are more likely to be right.

It is a cheerful and timely change of attitude, which might well be copied by larger business. There is danger of waiting so long for business recovery that hope dies and capital shrinks. The way to resume is to resume.

SPACE-TIME NEWS

Professor Einstein is right. Space is mixed up with time, and time with space. In radio they amount to the same thing.

But that is where the radio people are getting a headache, especially in news broadcasting. The radio reporter or commentator can say only about so many words in so many minutes. His time is very valuable and soon used up. Because of the pressure to finish with it and get back to the profitable advertising stuff, he is often misunderstood and is forced to leave important things hanging in the air.

A newspaper radio editor lists other handicaps for this form of news-transmission. The audible news is often over-dramatic and unbalanced. Bulletins are misunderstood, and the listener cannot stop the program to ask questions or have things repeated. Flash bulletins garble the facts. The very speed of radio prevents careful checking.

On the other hand, observes the editor, "the radio dialer still turns to his newspaper. He probably always will. He needs time to digest passing events."

Radio reporting can serve the home with news bulletins and eye descriptions of important events, but in general is not very useful unless it comes in "preferred radio time," of which there is a severe limitation. Dialers cannot remain glued to their sets all day. The newspaper is at the reader's door in the afternoon or the morning with full information, well digested and carefully written.

Hitler and Mussolini now say they're ready to negotiate Europe's "open problems." Let 'em park their guns and do the negotiating in the open.

Maryland has adopted "Maryland, My Maryland" as its official state song. It's a grand old song, but what "despot's foot" is on Maryland's shore now?

A feminine advertising expert says women want to be told by men what to do. Men do tell 'em, but it doesn't seem to do much good.

Yes, as the Frenchman says, "the more things change, the more they remain the same." The lost Charley Ross is found again.

MEALS IN THE AIR

The country's commercial air lines have been enjoying very lively business this spring, regularly surpassing previous records for passenger and amount of freight carried, and in distances flown without accident.

Increased safety is a principal reason for the greater patronage, but there may be others. Meals served in the air have progressed amazingly in the last few years and must have had their share in attracting air travelers.

Aerial meals used to consist of a ham sandwich, an apple and a banana. There were great difficulties in trying to serve more than that. At 5,000 feet altitude boiling a three minute egg requires double the time. Hot coffee at that, or high or altitudes has a tendency not to remain in thermos bottles, and so on.

But the various difficulties were overcome. Today almost a complete a la carte service is available on some planes. It is even possible to have roast beef rare or minute steak if the order is placed in advance.

ASIATIC STALEMATE

"China cannot win a military victory, and Japan cannot control China," says Alfred Fabre-Luce, a French author who has been in the Far East and is now in this country on his way home. Both nations are too poor to mobilize all their man power for the war.

Must they therefore hang on until both are exhausted? That seems to be what they are doing, with occasional progress in one section matched by losses in another.

It seems a stupid way to spend the energy and resources of two peoples. Even small boys in a fist fight know when they've had enough, and are able to shake hand and start doing something else.

This American trip may come a little hard on the King, with all those uniforms to change into, but he'll get a short rest from laying cornerstones.

No, we don't expect to fight in Europe this time, but we're not quite so sure about not lending 'em any more money.

European nations seem to be having more than their usual trouble in choosing sides. They've never learned to use a ball bat for it.

K. WOLENS BUYER LEFT MONDAY FOR EASTERN MARKETS

Ralph Berger, buyer of millinery and ready-to-wear for the K. Wolens department store, left for the New York and Eastern markets Monday on another buying trip of the season. This trip was made necessary by the extra activity shown by these two departments caused by the popular trend toward sportswear for summer. All branches of these departments are enjoying unusual activity occasioned by this popular trend. Slacks, slacks suits, play suits, for the more active and younger elements and spectator and lounging costumes for the more leisurely inclined are in great demand and last far up into fall, especially here in Texas, and therefore expects to make large purchases at once and rush them to the K. Wolens stores by fast express.

ANNOUNCE COTTON GINNED AND TOTAL GROWN BY COUNTIES

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(Sp.)—The Bureau of the Census announces the preliminary report of cotton ginned by counties in the State of Texas for the crop of 1938. These statistics were compiled in compliance with an enactment approved June 14, 1938, designed to make available information of the actual production of cotton for each county.

Each individual ginner reported the number of bales, if any, grown in each of other counties, as ginned by him. The "total grown" for any county was computed by subtracting from its "total ginnings" the number of bales grown in other counties and brought in for ginning, and adding the number grown in the county, but ginned in others. (Quantities are in running bales, counting round as half bales. Linters are not included.)

The state, total ginned, 2,964,288; total grown, 2,956,613.

CORSICANA IS MADE HEADQUARTERS FOR BAKERY PRODUCTS

Mrs. Baird's bakery of Dallas has made Corsicana a wholesale distributing center for its products, with headquarters at the Corsicana Trinity warehouse where fresh stocks of bakery products will be distributed daily throughout an extended trading area around Corsicana. Arrangements for this new enterprise for the city were made yesterday by Walter Trico of Dallas, who is general sales manager for this bakery. Mr. Trico announces that there will be three automobile routes working out of Corsicana, one bank as far east as Mabank, one route as far south as Groesbeck and the other route to be in Corsicana and adjacent territory. The three new salesmen covering these routes will be Jack McKay, who has just moved to the city from Dallas, with J. T. Neal and Billy Pope of Corsicana. This new concern will only deal in wholesale deliveries to retailers, with factories located at Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston.

FUNDS ARE SOUGHT FROM LOCAL PEOPLE IN BOY SCOUT WORK

LETTERS SENT OUT BY JOHN R. CORLEY, FINANCE CHAIRMAN, TO 787 PERSONS

John R. Corley, chairman of the finance committee of the Navarro County District of Circle Ten Council Boy Scouts of America, has sent 787 letters to citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county seeking to carry on Boy Scout work in the county.

An intensive membership and re-organization campaign has recently been inaugurated in this county under the direction of Carl Bryan, special representative of the organization and a number of new troops have been organized and others started to work again.

Funds, Mr. Corley says, are needed to keep the work going and to pay the expenses of the district.

The letters follow:

Dear Sir: We believe you are interested in the boys of Corsicana; that you appreciate the Boy Scout Movement; and realize that Scouting in Corsicana is carried on by local citizens whose services are entirely voluntary.

Navarro county is a district of Circle Ten Council, Boy Scouts of America. Our field executive, working directly and energetically with our local district committee, is a member of Circle Ten Council Staff and it is incumbent on Navarro county district to pay its pro rata part of the operating expenses.

During the next few days a committee of Corsicana business men will call upon you to enlist your support for our Scouting program. The successful promotion of Scouting in our community requires money, and we believe that no investment made by the citizens of Corsicana gives a greater return than does that made for Scouting in this district.

This letter is written to you in advance so that you may investigate thoroughly the organization's accomplishments in the recent past, and the possibilities for Corsicana in the immediate future. We believe that you want to have a part in the building of the worthwhile organization of the Boy Scouts of America, and feel that you will greet these volunteer workers with a smile when they come to talk to you about Scouting.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN R. CORLEY, CHAIRMAN
FINANCE COMMITTEE
NAVARRO COUNTY DISTRICT

Cotton Princess

Miss Patty Collins (above) will represent Corsicana at the Cotton Queen's Ball at Waco, Saturday night, which will culminate an observance of National Cotton Week sponsored by the Waco Junior Chamber of Commerce. A tea will be given at the Roosevelt hotel Saturday afternoon for the princesses from the various towns participating in the event. The ball will be held in the Cotton Palace Coliseum. Other representatives from this sector include Miss Louise Bissett of Kerens, Miss Molly Lou Mitchell of Wortham, and Dorothy Bennett of Hillsboro.

OUT-DOOR REVIVAL NEAR COTTON MILL STILL IN PROGRESS

The open air revival at the corner of Ninth street and Twelfth avenue, being conducted each evening at 8 o'clock by the Church of Christ of 1820 West Tenth avenue, is still in progress with average crowds attending.

The subject for discussion tonight will be "Departure from the Faith" in which Rex Kimbrough will notice some facts both from the scriptures and from secular history regarding religious movements since the days of the apostles' teaching.

The whole public is invited to come out and study the true facts concerning the division in the religious world. The trend in religious thought seems to be pointing toward unity of religious people. We can better understand how to approach that unity if we have a clearer understanding of the cause of the division. It is not our purpose to cast unkind reflections toward any religious people, but rather to bring the facts to light that they might be considered. There is plenty of parking space, and all can hear plainly even though they come and sit in their cars, as a loud speaking system is being used in each service.—Rex Kimbrough.

More Than Hundred Attended Rotary Stag Baum Lodge

More than 100 persons attended the Rotary Club stag party at Baum's Lodge north of Corsicana Wednesday night. No set program was carried out, it was stated Thursday.

The party on Wednesday night took the place of the customary noon luncheon-meeting of the club.

A number of out-of-town and local visitors were present.

TAXPAYERS GRANTED REBATES WHEN THEY MAKE EARLY PAYMENT

T. A. Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes, Thursday stated that a new law regulating payment of current taxes was now in effect.

The new law provides that current taxes, paid in October are entitled to a three per cent reduction, those remitted in November will receive a two-per cent reduction, while taxes paid in December will get a one-per cent rebate.

The assessor-collector pointed out that it will be necessary for the tax rolls to be completed earlier than in former years due to the new ruling for earlier payments, and appealed to the taxpayers to aid in the rendering of properties as soon as possible.

Farmer pointed out that the bigger tax payers, railroads, oil companies and others will be given a considerable saving on their taxes by availing themselves of the earlier payments, while the smaller tax-payers can secure a proportionate saving by the early remittances.

The Baptist Boy Scout troop met for the third time Monday night, May 22, at 7 o'clock. There were only nine present. The best excuse was—the exams. One boy fully passed the tenderfoot and there were five to partly pass it. More boys are urged to join this troop, which meets at 7:30 every Monday night in the Pals class building.—Scribe.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Emhouse Club
"To have order and system in the kitchen depends largely upon the arrangement of the kitchen utensils, linens, etc.," said Miss Clara E. Rettiger, home demonstration agent, to the members of the Emhouse Home Demonstration Club, at a meeting at Mrs. Bill Stewart's May 23, 1939.

First, storage should be planned so that it will be near. There should be shelf space. These are best if made adjustable and movable. Second, frequently used articles should be stored where they are easily accessible. Hooks should be used for articles that can be hung. Drawers in your cabinet or table should be sectioned—silver, forks, cookie cutters, etc., should be placed in different sections so they may be easily obtained. Third, a variety of storage should be planned. In your four or more cupboards, you should store them in metal containers, as they are much easier cleaned. Dishes may be stored on shelves or better, in a pass cabinet.

The storage of linens might be in the cabinet if so, have narrow shelves to pull out, so that each article is easily reached. On these shelves should be stored the dish towels, hand towels, wash cloths, luncheon cloths and napkins.

The last two cleaning units are: First, general utility closet, which should include a place for your canner, and other canning equipment; second, cleaning equipment, such as brooms, etc.

If you keep order and system in your home, your daily tasks will be much lighter, and home life much pleasanter.

Refreshments of cake and lemonade were served to eight members, and four visitors, Mrs. Ralph Chaney, Mrs. Clifton Johnson, Mrs. Joe Richard and Mrs. J. W. Richard.—Reporter.

Saturday, May 27, will be Poppy Day in Corsicana. On that day the women of Johnson-Wiggins Unit 22 of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute little red poppies on the streets to be worn in honor of the World War dead. The observance here will be part of the annual nationwide observance of Poppy Day, during which millions of Americans will pay tribute to the memory of the war dead by wearing these memorial poppies.

The poppies which will be worn here have been ordered from the Veterans Hospital, Kerrville, where they have been made by disabled World War veterans. The poppy making has provided employment for needy veterans. These poppies are not made in any place in Texas except in Legion Hospital and all are stamped veteran made—American Legion and Legion Auxiliary.

In exchange for the poppies, the Auxiliary women will ask each person to make a contribution for the welfare of the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, the widows and the fatherless children of veterans. This money will be used entirely in the welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary, the bulk of it in the work of the local post and unit.

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEI

TWO FEET AND TWO FAIRS.

With the advent of twoWorld's Fair, the cry for the next months will be: "Oh my feet hurt; I can't waltz any other step." And most certainly agree that if the feet hurt or ache you ache all over.

Now—what to do. First of all, if you have a day of walking ahead of you—don't wear high heels. Veronica Dengei chooses shoes that fit well at the heels and which have a moderate height with a fairly good breadth to the heel. There should be no binding laces or bands on them—and don't choose patent leather. It is better to have a soft calfskin which will not tend to "draw" the feet should they get warm or perspire.

When you dress that morning, sprinkle a little talcum in the shoes as well as patting powder on the feet and between the toes. And when you return home remove the shoes and stockings, and bathe the feet in warm, soapy water. Should they ache, you might try soaking them in hot water for two or three minutes and then place them in cold water for a minute or so. Return to the hot water, then to the cold, and alternate a third time if you wish. Dry with a rough, Turkish towel, powder and then try rest for a while. The best position to relieve the burning sensation is to elevate the feet to a point higher than the rest of the body. This gives the blood a chance to run off and change the circulation.

A caution that I want to give you is this—don't wear old shoes, on a walking tour—just because they are so comfortable—unless (and that's very important) you have had the heels straightened—that they are not high heels—and that the shoe is not worn to a point where it is out of shape—and that it fits snugly at the heel. This latter point is quite necessary because a constant rubbing would cause you to develop a mean blister. And of course it would be most unwise to walk in heels that were run over, because all day your feet would be thrown out of position.

You can't expect to tax your feet with miles of exercise without taking certain precautions to insure their comfort. Do be careful about this because your day could be so easily spoiled—and indeed, that would be too bad.

KING MAKES MOST CONCILIATORY TALK ON EMPIRE DAY

SAYS NEVER AGAIN WILL FORCE BE USED BETWEEN UNITED STATES - BRITISH

WINNIPEG, May 24.—(P)—King George VI told his empire and the world today "no man, thank God, will ever again conceive" of the use of force or threat to settle differences between "the peoples of my empire and the people of the United States."

The King spoke on the occasion of Empire Day, a world-wide British holiday, and from this center of his Canadian domain. His address followed a tour through Winnipeg streets in a steady rain, the King and Queen riding in an open car. The King sat unsheltered, but the Queen held an umbrella.

He stressed neither the wealth nor power of the British empire in his Empire Day message, saying those things were but the instrument and not the end or the ideal.

"The end is freedom, justice and peace in equal measure for all, secure against attack without and from within," he said.

Train Reaches Winnipeg.

The royal train reached Winnipeg at 10:30 a. m. CST, completing a long overnight trip from the twin cities of Fort William and Port Arthur at the head of the Great Lakes.

Before the royal party arrived most of the parade route had been deserted by the thousands of spectators who crowded into Winnipeg. Merchants in the main shopping area cleared out their windows and sold standing space.

Many of those here to join the celebration came from across the border. Some represented high schools and public schools in South Dakota, and Minnesota.

The American flag was prominent in impromptu morning parades from the stations and from lodges whose members joined in festivities. A large delegation of the American Legion was present.

His Empire Day broadcast, the first message ever spoken on a world hookup by a British king away from England, was awaited as the high point of the royal visit to Winnipeg, although the city has been celebrating the coming of King George and Queen Elizabeth for several days and last night staged a two-mile parade of 40 floats tracing the romantic history of the Canadian West.

This city is overflowing with visitors from rural Manitoba and the United States. Estimates have been made that 50,000 Americans would swell local crowds along the 26-mile route of the royal drive through the city this afternoon and see parts of the eight-hour program.

To Receive Rent.

In the late afternoon King George will stop at Old Fort Garry, now a Winnipeg park, to take the unique ceremony of receiving rent from the head of the historic Hudson's Bay Company, founded in 1670. Two elk heads and two rare black beaver pelts were to be paid by the trading company whenever the king or his heirs visited the company's domain.

Today offered the first opportunity in history for the payment

PRESBYTERIANS IN SESSION CLEVELAND; UNION TO BE TALKED

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—(P)—Judge H. Walton Mitchell of Pittsburgh today became the first layman ever to hold the office of moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

The jurist was chosen over his own objections at the opening session of the assembly's 81st annual session.

The new moderator, who succeeds the Rev. Dr. Ralph Atkinson of San Marino, Calif., is an elder in the Shady Side church, Pittsburgh.

of the "rent" to a reigning monarch. Once previously it was paid to the present Duke of Windsor when he visited Canada as Prince of Wales in 1927.

King George and Queen Elizabeth have covered 1,200 miles since leaving Toronto Monday night.

In the wilderness of Northern Ontario they saw a sparsely settled land of rare beauty, especially the scenic route around the top of Lake Superior.

At Fort William and Port Arthur, the route of a seven-mile royal drive yesterday afternoon ran for several miles along a completed section of a projected trans-Canada road.

Fort Fort William the royal train headed west for the prairies and stopped at Busted for five hours while the king and queen slept, the remainder of the run to Winnipeg being made by daylight.

Recipes Given, Prizes Awarded Cooking School

By MRS. S. C. BAGBY

In closing the Daily Sun's 18th annual, and very successful "Happy Kitchen Cooking School," Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, nationally known Southern home economist and lecturer, who has won the hearts of the hundreds upon hundreds of women attending this, her second school of instruction, bespoke her thanks to all present for their interest and undivided attention. She also expressed gratitude to those who had presented her with flowers from time to time; to the Daily Sun for its courteous attentions and the generous space for recipes; to Messrs. Guy Bunch and Fred DuBose, advertising managers of the school; R. J. Oeder of the Western Auto Associate Store; E. C. Holt, representing Morton's Iodized Salt; and O. Boh, representative of the McIlhenny's Tobacco Co., and then taking each of the local firms and the advertisers and manufacturers that made the school possible, she complimented them and their products very highly, and had all to give a big hand to the Dr. Pepper Co., representatives, who saw that everyone attending the school had a refreshing bottle of Dr. Pepper each afternoon.

Since Mrs. Burbank is an artist who delights to sketch and paint as well as cook, she taught her classes through demonstration, the careful and artistic arrangement of the foods for the table, and impressed upon her listeners that it was their duty to make the table and the foods prepared for their children and husbands as attractive as possible, as this was one way of showing that you loved them. It also prevents you getting into ruts, she said.

Recipes Given

Most of the afternoon was devoted to giving recipes, and after expressing her love for the Corsicana women, the pleasure she had in instructing them, Messrs. Bunch and DuBose expressed their gratitude for the interest shown by the women of the city and county, and with Billie June Etheridge drawing the tickets from the box, awarded the prizes.

Two grand prizes, a beautiful floor lamp and a dripplater coffee set were awarded and Mrs. Chester D. Harris, 1319 West Thirtieth avenue won the lamp.

Mr. DuBose, as well as Mrs. Burbank announced that the Western Auto Associate Store would have the electric range, the G. E. refrigerator and the mixer, used during the cooking school, on sale at their store at a reduced price, so now would be a nice time for some one to equip their kitchen electrically.

By this time Mrs. Burbank had arranged her vegetable salad on a large platter for display, with the onions resembling lilies and the radishes cut like roses. She also made ready the baked ice cream.

Principal increase is in the number of graduate degrees being awarded. Twenty-one are being granted this year as compared with 11 last spring.

A full commencement calendar includes the W. A. A. banquet and the current Literature club teas Friday evening, May 19, the Mary Arden breakfast at 8 a. m. and the Gammadion Luncheon at 12:15 on Saturday, May 27. Spirit Adventure Draws Navy Men To Submarine Service

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 25.—(P)—A "bonus" goes with submarine service in the U. S. navy, but it's the "spirit of adventure" that attracts men to the undersea craft.

"An unusual occupation—there's something catchy about it," observed a veteran naval officer in this port.

A majority of the men in "subs" are volunteers for this service—and only those especially "physically and temperamentally" fitted are accepted.

On the "fleet type" of undersea craft like the Squalus—one that operates from a mother ship—the "bonus" ranges from $10 to $30 a month.

Years ago the men were paid $1 a dive.

Widows and dependent parents of men lost in the Squalus will receive their husband's pay for six months. Most of the men in submarine service however, carry insurance provided by the government.

The base pay of a seaman is $54. Families of the victims in need, however, would be eligible for a pension from the Naval Relief Society—supported by donations from enlisted men and subscriptions.
